

Array Networks has determined that all of its products placed into service from July 1, 2006 forward are compliant to the EU RoHS Directive. Additionally, Array Networks qualifies for exemption status under Category 3, IT and Telecommunications Equipment for Lead (pb).

Array Networks is committed to reducing the environmental impact of hazardous materials and is actively working with its suppliers to phase out the use of lead and other hazardous materials as alternative materials are identified that meet the performance requirements of our products.
